Capt. McKegy of the steamer Union states that he twice caused the whistle to be blown for the Belleville to remain at her pier until he passed, but the aignal was disregarded.

At lo'clock a.m., on the 9th inst., a fire broke at a Baton Rouge, which destroyed the Government stables, a considerable amount of quartermaster's stores, and 25 horses. It is a fact worthy of notice that the borses of staff efficers and private individuals in the adjoining building were saved.

The gunboat Barataria, originally a small stern-wheel steamer, was lost on the 7th inst., in the Amite river. She grounded upon a bar, and was abandoned and destroyed, it being considered an impossibility to extricate her.

The steamer Potomac arrived here from New-York yesterday morning, with but two passengers. Much comment is excited because of the non-arrival of the neural invoice of Israelites. Chatham street is being transplanted hither at a fearful rate. However, it is but an act of justice to New-Orleans, as many of her former business men of the tribe of Judah are justed the limits of the Confederacy. The many of her former business men of the tribe of Judah are inside the limits of the Confederacy. The Judah are inside the limits of the Confederacy. The fact is doubtless well known to you that the Jews of this city took an active part in the Rebellion.

There are as yet no military movements of importance to chronicle. Gen. Banks is seventeen miles from Brashear City, between Franklin and Pattersonville. With the exception of slight skirmishing, no action has taken place, but a fight is expected at Franklin. Pattersonville, where the gunboat Dians was captured, was passed without even a brush. The army is on the feet that Picks to a visitor a few days ago, to the effect that Vick services of the three gunboats cannot be made available after passing that place. It is apparently the some three years will have to elapse before the vescous design of the Keeles to draw our forces as far as ome three years will have to elapse before the vescous training four fields after passible into the Teche country, and cut off their retreat. The 21st Indiana, Col. McMillan, recently converted into an artillery regiment, forms a portion of the expedition. They have forty 32-pounders, with sixten horses to each piece. In the confiscation case against the property of John Slidell, an intervention has been filed on behalf of Frederic A. Marcuard, of Paris, to whom the property was mortgaged in June last. The document sets forth that Mr. Marcuard leaned Slidell the gum of 259,000 francs, payable in one year, with interest at 5 per cent, and that the property mortgaged, valued at $237,500, was assigned to him in payment of the principal and interest of said loan. The rents of this property were to be collected by Eugene Rousseau, and notes of persons for other rents, payable on demand, were surrendered under protest to Capt. McClure, A. Q. M. Rousseau now petitions, on behalf of Marcuard (as the said Marcuard has never aided, countenanced or abetted the rebellion against the United States), that he may be allowed to collect the rent on the numerous houses, stores, &c., included in the morigage, until the sale of the property takes place; and that, when the sale of the property takes place; and that, when the sale of the property takes place; and that, when the sale of the property takes place; and that, when the property is sold, he may receive the sum of 252,573 39 100 francs, with interest at 5 per cent per annum on the sum of 250,000 francs, from the Sth of November, 1862.

On Thursday, the 9th inst., Col. Daniels, with a detachment of about 180 men of his regiment, left Ship Island on board the U. S. transport-steamer Gen. Banks, on an expedition to Pascagoula, Miss. He reached that place and landed his force about 9 o'clock the same merning, took poscession, and hoisted the stars and stripes upon the hotel. Immediately after this he was attacked by a force of 300 Rebel cavalry, supported by one company of infantry. After a severe fight, in which twenty or more of the creamy were killed and a large number wounded, the Rebels retreated, leaving three prisoners and the Confederate colors to the victors. Col. Daniels held the place until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when, hearing that large re-enforcements had arrived from the camp up the Pascagoula River, he withdrew his forces to the boat, and sailed for Ship Island.

The immortal Nineteenth of April was celebrated by a portion of our forces here, in one of the most brilliant and successful expeditions that have taken place during the war. Just before dark last evening about 500 men from the New-York 89th and the Connecticut 8th, led by Capt.
